Scientific studies have found that besides other causes of hair loss problem, one main problem is the DHT hormone which grows over the hair scalp and causes the damage of hairs. This hormone blocks the food and water supply to the hairs which causes the hair follicles to get weaker and weaker until they die and fall from the scalp. Provillus hair loss treatment contains natural herbs as its main ingredients which are tested clinically and found highly effective against the production of DHT hormone over the hair scalp. Containing the properties of these natural herbs, Provillus acts as DHT blocker and prevents the DHT formation over the scalp. It provides the hairs with essential nutrients which make them strong enough to fight against the DHT hormone and consequently the DHT formation is blocked.

The blocking of DHT hormone ultimately eliminates the hair loss. Also, the product promotes the hair regrowth and grows new thick and healthy hairs. It nourishes hairs, making them thick, strong, healthy and beautiful looking. This is basically a two step formula composed of Hair regrowth supplement and hair regrowth spray and recommended to use twice a day. Many people have used it and reported good results in a short time period.
