ITIL Foundation (2 Day) Training Now Available Onsite

ELY, UK, July 11, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IT Governance Ltd, the UK's leading information security and service management training service provider has announced that its unique ITIL Foundation (2 Day) training course is now available for delivery onsite in the offices of its customers and partners.

The ITIL Foundation (2 Day) In-House training course has been developed for IT Service Managers and Training Managers who need to make certain their service teams have the essential qualifications to sustain their career development. Designed to ensure delegates pass the ITIL Foundation exam at the first attempt, this course delivers training that is both cost-effective and minimises the time away from the office.

Andy Britton, Principal ITIL Instructor at IT Governance Ltd explains, "Before managers purchase any product, they must decide to on ether supporting delegates as they self-study or by booking them on online or classroom training courses. Self-study is the lowest cost option but its success relies on personal commitment and it has been shown to yield lower first-time pass rates and take longer. Online training is more slightly effective but in many ways is just a digital version of the self-study option."

He also confirms, "All practitioners agree that tutor-led classroom sessions remain the most effective and quickest method to ensuring delegates pass the ITIL Foundation exam at the first attempt. But traditional classroom training courses can have higher prices and involve the additional cost of transport/accommodation and time away from the office."

Presented at the client site by an experienced ITIL trainer and practitioner, the ITIL Foundation (2 Day) In-House training course offers the following benefits:

• Delegates acquire ITIL Foundation certificate quickly
• Reduce the costs of transport and accommodation
• Minimise time away from the office to just 2 days
• Build and develop team knowledge and understanding
• Inclusive EXIN ITIL Foundation examination and processing service
