

Seattle, WA Based Emerald City Appliance Repair Announces Its Fresh New Website Design

A Seattle, WA based appliance repair company has announced its fresh, newly designed website, aimed at even better customer service.

SEATTLE, WA, July 11, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Emerald City Appliance Repair, a Seattle, WA based company specializing in professional repair of all major brands of appliances, has announced its fresh new design website.

The new Seattle appliance repair website was designed by a professional web & design development company, which specializes in local business websites.

When asked about the new website, Sam. K, Director of Marketing of Emerald City Appliance Repair, remarked, "We have been wanting to improve our website for quite some time, in hopes that it would better represent our true image, the one our loyal customers best know us for. Our old website just didn't represent our mission of customer-focused service, a mission that we're very proud of.

"Our new site will help new, as well as existing, customers learn more about us, be able to browse our services more easily, see a map with our service area, find our company hours and get in touch with us quickly. It just came together so well. It is everything we had hoped for and more, and we hope that both our current customers and prospective customers will feel the same way about it."

Sam continues, "We're always looking to improve our customers' experience when engaging with our services, and we don't stop with our new website. In all of our dealings with customers, we pride ourselves on delivering clear communication, top-quality work, and first rate customer service on every job, no matter how large or small.

"We guarantee 100% customer satisfaction on all of our appliance repair services, and we aim to leave every client with a smile and a newly working appliance. In short, it is our goal to be the
