ST. LOUIS, MO, USA, July 19, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Senior citizens who live on fixed incomes can still have electrical work in St. Louis done – at a discount – from Mr. Electric.

Summer storm season is here – and with it comes the inexorable need for electrical services. St. Louis has seen a number of high-profile public electrical issues of late. Under the US Bank building downtown, an underground electrical vault exploded in late June. A day later, an electrical fire sparked in a tunnel downtown.

There are complicated reasons for electrical system failure; yet there is a simple solution if electrical issues should befall St. Louis senior citizens. Mr. Electric, a St. Louis electrical contractor that serves St. Louis, Chesterfield, Wildwood, Mehlville, Oakville, Arnold, Kirkwood, Sunset Hills, Ballwin and Webster Groves, offers senior discounts on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

“These discounts ensure that our older customers can utilize our services at a price that works for their budgets,” claims Willard McDonell, a St. Louis electrician and owner of Mr. Electric.

Mr. Electric offers a panoply of residential and commercial electric services in St. Louis. Surge protection, the installation of receptacles, specialty lighting, energy efficiency including solar services, and so much more are all residential services offered in St. Louis. In addition to offering senior discounts, Mr. Electric honors the military in the St. Louis area with military discounts. Whether one served or is serving in the Army, Navy, United States Marine Corps, or the Air Force, Mr. Electric’s military discounts apply.
