

Canyouship.it Beta Launches Luggage Sharing Platform

Canyouship.it is the world's first social courier network : build a community of travelers and explorers, share your trips, and ship stuff all around the world!

SHANGHAI, CHINA, July 22, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CANYOUSHIP.IT MAKES SOCIAL SHIPPING EASY

The startup develops "social courier" as an alternative to the Fedex and the UPS of this world.

Canyouship.it (<http://canyouship.it>) is a free web-app that lets people share their luggage space among friends and friends-of-friends. By connecting friends who travel, anyone can tap into a constantly moving crowd able to import or export personal, local, typical and duty free items from all around the world.

Behind a very user centric interface based on a map, the latest node.js and angular technologies are put at work, including a new process manager called pm2 (<https://github.com/Unitech/pm2>), developed by Alex.

In a world that is getting ever smaller by the sheer number of national and international daily trips (estimated 18 million daily trips), by rail, air, sea or roads, the probability you know someone who is travelling is increasing. Canyouship.it is an online platform that generates offline, human interactions.

When travelers open their luggage to others, they gain social kudos by helping their friends out of course, but depending on the types of object they ship, they can also make easy cash or get real-life rewards and experience, like getting picked-up at the station or airport, getting offered a drink or a lunch while discussing about the trip, visiting a typical and secret local spot.

Canyouship.it makes it very easy and intuitive to request things from people who shared their luggage space on the platform. And many reasons can lead people to ship specific things through Canyouship.it: Exclusivity (design, food...), Price arbitrage (taxes on alcohol, cigarettes, luxury imports), Safety (milk powder or medicine). Canyouship.it helps fulfill needs or whims and creates new opportunities for discoveries.

At the current stage, the founders would like to get feedback from the users in order to decide which features to implement in the next steps.

Canyouship.it Limited is a young web company registered in England and Wales and founded in May 2013. The app fosters social and shared economy by offering a free alternative to shipping services by organizing anyone's network of travelling friends. Please find more on www.canyouship.it .
