

Wills Ridley Limited appoints Unique System FZE as their Authorized Distributor

SHARJAH, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, July 24, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Unique System FZE, a Unique Maritime Group Company (UMG), is one of the world's leading integrated turnkey subsea and offshore solution providers, has recently signed an agency agreement with Wills Ridley Limited for the supply of marine steering systems in India, parts of the Middle East and the African subcontinent.

Wills Ridley Ltd was formed in 1963 to manufacture and market steering gear for small boats. The company has developed a name for first class, before and after sales service. As time has progressed, the range of products has expanded together with improved quality and performance. Wills Ridley Steering Systems are designed from standard or tailored components, which are manufactured to the highest quality. They include all types of controls - electric or manual hydraulic built in to pedestals or purpose designed console panels to suit the specification.

On this occasion, Ryan Kitchener, Marketing Director @ Wills Ridley Limited commented, "We are glad to partner with UMG as they are renowned for their global presence, seamless sales & support structure along with a broad client reach."

On this occasion, Sharad Kumar, Business Development Manager @ Unique Maritime Group commented, "Our partnership with Wills Ridley will help us to integrate their steering systems to the portfolio of packaged solutions offered by our Marine division. We will also ensure the best after sales service to our clients as per the manufacturer standards."
