

Mount Joy Wire Welcomes 25 Year Industry Veteran as New Director of Technical Services

Industry veteran John Schleicher joins the Mount Joy Wire team as the new Director of Technical Services.

LANCASTER, PA, USA, July 29, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Mount Joy Wire is excited to announce the addition of 25-year wire manufacturing veteran and Six Sigma Green Belt John Schleicher as the new Director of Technical Services for the company.

In this crucial role, Schleicher will manage and develop quality and process improvements for Mount Joy Wire's growing global business. It is an excellent opportunity for him to apply nearly 3 decades of shop floor engineering experience in helping grow the Mount Joy brand, which serves industries from aerospace to agriculture.

Those already in the industry may recognize Schleicher from his years in operations and engineering at New York Wire and Teledyne McKay, both located in York, PA. Schleicher has a BS in Industrial and Manufacturing Engineering from Penn State, an MS in Technology Management from the University of Maryland and holds a Quality Management and Methods Certificate from Penn State and is a certified Six Sigma Green Belt.

Like most modern American Manufacturers, Mount Joy Wire strives to be the best in lean processes, energy efficiency, and high quality production. Schleicher's qualifications are a perfect complement to Mount Joy Wire's own achievements, which include ISO9001 quality management registration and Energy Smart Honor Roll recognition by the PPL Electric Utility. Tom Duff, CEO and President of Mount Joy Wire, says of Schleicher,

His years of experience in quality and process improvements is a perfect fit with our strategic initiatives.”
