

Andy's Glass & Window Has Launched A New Interactive Website As An Added Customer Convenience

MURIETTA, CA, USA, July 31, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Andy's Glass has redesigned their website as an added convenience to their customers. Andy's Glass & Window Company of Temecula Valley has been servicing the glass, window and door needs of Southern California since the 1970's.

In a continuing effort to provide greater quality and convenience throughout the experience, Andy's Glass has recently redesigned its website. The new Andy's Glass website echoes the move toward minimalism throughout the web, while still providing all the necessary information for viewers to become informed about their products and contact Andy's Glass. The new website offers a more streamlined approach, with an easy-to-navigate sitemap and social tools to follow Andy's Glass on Twitter, Facebook Google Plus, Pinterest and LinkedIn.

We embrace new web technologies like Pinterest and Twitter just as we embrace advancements in glass installation.”

The minimalism of the new design also includes a simple, but aesthetically pleasing photo gallery for the various kinds of in-home glasswork that Andy's provides. The new photos will give customers a good visual understanding of the quality craftsmanship that goes into each Andy's Glass installation.

The site also includes links to reviews on each product offered, allowing the customer to further educate himself prior to contacting Andy's for a free estimate.

"Through our new site design, we hope to present our potential customers with high quality products as well as our new channels of communication," said Rachel Naylor, CFO of Andy's Glass. "We embrace new web technologies like Pinterest and Twitter just as we embrace advancements in glass installation. We want our customers to be able to visit the site, get quick and valuable information on their options and register for a free estimate without needless distractions. We feel that the new andyglass.com provides that experience."

Andy's Glass is a product of Southern California, and has been around since the 1970s. Surviving economic upheaval while continuing to provide the most modern styles and technologies in home glass, Andy's has the experience and quality workmanship that homeowners need in their windows and more.

With a 9300 square foot home of operations, Andy's Glass is by far the largest contractor in the area. A five time winner of the "Milgard Dealer of the Month," Andy's offers the highest quality glass for windows, doors and shower enclosures.

With AMAA certified installers, Andy's Glass strives to deliver the highest quality work while providing competitive pricing and excellent customer service.
