PowerPoint users today has access to thousands of PPT designs, as PowerPoint template providers like FPPT has thousands of free PowerPoint templates.

MONTEVIDEO, URUGUAY, August 6, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FPPT.com (Free PowerPoint Templates) has become one of the largest providers of free PowerPoint templates and is now among the websites with the most shared PPT templates. With nearly 3000 PowerPoint templates to its collection, FPPT has reached another milestone of becoming one of the PPT giants of the industry.

Largest Growing Collection Of Free PowerPoint Templates

Back in the day the most common method of acquiring PowerPoint templates was either through the default templates that came preloaded with PowerPoint or to search through the Microsoft portal. However, all that was changed by PPT providers like FPPT, which unlike most of its competitors went beyond the provision of a handful of templates to add hundreds of professionally designed templates related to virtually any topic imaginable. These PowerPoint templates can be downloaded by anyone for free, without the need to sign up for an account or to pay for a subscription. The available templates can be sorted out according to the given categories and tags or visitors can make use of the search box to find PPT templates according to specific keywords.

Other than the availability of nearly 3000 professionally designed free PowerPoint templates, FPPT has also been able to attract more than half a million visitors each month, which is proof of the overwhelming response that FPPT is receiving from its growing visitor base, amounting to thousands of PowerPoint templates being downloaded each day for personal and professional use.

Release Of New Templates in Coming Months

In the coming months the FPPT team has vowed to add more templates to its collection and visitors will be able to benefit from more exclusive, fresh templates on a continual basis, including Widescreen PowerPoint templates that have become a specialty for PowerPoint 2013 users.

PowerPoint Templates For Mobile Devices And Web Apps

While FPPT templates are compatible with both old and new versions of Microsoft PowerPoint, the focus of future templates will also include the provision of templates that can match the needs for upcoming modern devices and can offer enhanced utility for users of mobile devices (e.g. Windows 8 tablets). In fact, FPPT templates can already be used with not only Microsoft PowerPoint but also online presentation services like SlideOnline and authorSTREAM, with an exclusive partnership with the former.
