

DevelopIntelligence Announces New Open Source Web Development Training Courses

BOULDER, CO, USA, August 6, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Open Source Web Development boasts the ability for web designers to utilize the vast public domain resources that are available to developers online to build their websites.

DevelopIntelligence, a Boulder-based company that specializes in technical training for teams and organizations offers a wide variety of courses that are designed to enhance one's knowledge of how to fully take advantage of the open source web tools that are available to web developers.

Learning the fundamentals of Open Source Web Development

Navigating through the variety of programs that are designed to help web designers take advantage of open source web development can be a daunting task. That's why DevelopIntelligence has created multiple comprehensive training programs that can teach anyone the basics of how to use programs like Hibernate, GWT, Scala, Perl, Python and much more. Through the mastery of these programs, one can take advantage of open source technology and utilize the tools available to them to create a successful website.

I appreciated the instructor's deep knowledge and insights. Michael was very much functioning (and qualified) as a consultant, not just a trainer/teacher."

Server Administration Training

For advanced web developers that desire to learn how to become a server administrator, DevelopIntelligence has the training programs that can educate anyone on how to become a server administrator. DevelopIntelligence's training courses feature introductions to Apache's features and various Linux training programs that can be useful for any web developer. As always, if there is not a training program that a company is looking for, DevelopIntelligence can tailor or design one for a client.

DevelopIntelligence

DevelopIntelligence provides comprehensive training on topics ranging from Apache to Ruby. It features customizable learning tailored to each student's needs. If a program does not fit a student, DevelopIntelligence will design a new training course specifically for that student. DevelopIntelligence strays away from the "one size fits all" mentality to deliver personalized learning. The training offered is specific to students' backgrounds, roles and learning styles. Instructors are knowledgeable about the subjects and have experience in the field. The material provided is relevant to the students' projects and environment. The range of courses that DevelopIntelligence provides is budget friendly so that students can expand their knowledge without shrinking their wallet.
