

Apple Vending Comes Up With 'Alternative' Vending Machine

Apple Vending.com.au is introducing new 'healthy' vending machines as opposed to vending machines stacked with unhealthy junk food

NEWCASTLE, NSW, AUSTRALIA, August 9, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Apple Vending.com.au website is now expanding its nationwide fight against obesity throughout Australia. By providing natural-organic snacks and drinks. AppleVending.com.au has rapidly spread into schools, gyms, offices, hospitals, shopping malls and other public locations nationwide that have hosted vending machines.

Apple Vending Healthy Vending Machines

Due to overwhelming positive responses gained by these vending machines it is a clear indication that Australians are "fed up" with the lack of healthier alternatives to the junk food and soft drinks traditionally offered in public venues.

Change can happen with just a few concerned and dedicated individuals, and we are hoping to reach some of you as soon as possible.

Apple Vending.com.au is attempting to overcome a common obstacle which has proven to be especially cumbersome, vending contracts with junk food companies that contain exclusivity clauses that preclude competition for three to five years in certain locations, including schools, which is the one place most in need of a healthy alternative. These contracts force other vendors like Apple Vending.com.au to go through a bidding process in order to secure locations.

The Apple Vending School Vending Machine program is a completely free program for schools which have no financial or labour liability whatsoever for the vending machines. The distributors are health-conscious individuals with a desire to providing healthier snack and beverage alternatives in convenient locations. All of the natural and organic products meet state nutritional guidelines and are delivered free directly to the location.

Apple Vending is reaching out to school administrators, shopping mall managers, business owners, concerned parents and other decision makers to cooperate with them in regards to placing healthy vending machines throughout Australia.

AppleVending.com.au is looking for sites for their new vending machines such as schools, offices, hospitals, shopping centres, and fitness centres, looking to gain consumers interested in healthier food options.

The business models of many healthy retailers have been studied, and it has been demonstrated that consumers are willing to pay two or three times for healthier foods that they want, and believes that a similar healthy foods program can be developed for the automated vending machine space.

The introduction of new vending machines with remote monitoring along with the organic products distribution program, will offer customers an enhanced healthier vending services solution.

Apple Vending.com.au vending services include the supply of all types of Vending Machines with your choices in Healthy products we are calling them "Health Station " kiosks, with on-going maintenance, promotions and sampling events. This Vending Machine Service is all supplied at NO COST. If you are interested in finding out more please find us in Google , type in Apple Vending.
