

Transportation Consulting Firm Ahern & Associates Announces Two Clients Seeking New Acquisitions

The transport consultants reveals two additional clients who are looking to expand and close in a short period of time.

PHOENIX, AZ, UNITED STATES, August 14, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With over two decades of experience in transportation consulting, Ahern & Associates has been an integral part in the growth of countless transportation businesses. This week, hot on the heels of last week's announcement of new clientele, the leading trucking and logistics company has revealed the engagement of two further clients. Ahern's two new clients are both strategic buyers that are willing to close within a 45 to 60-day period, and are willing to purchase equipment in order to make their move happen. Both clients were drawn to Ahern by their sterling reputation in the industry and their position at the cutting edge of the wave of consolidation and growth that has been sweeping the trucking world.

The first of Ahern's new clients is a family operated business that generates in excess of $80m. The business is interested in growing their operating footprint and obtaining additional intellectual capital to aid them in growing their business. The client is seeking a profitable freight broker of $2M to $15M of annual revenue, as well as a van and/or refrigerated carrier ranging from 20 to 100 trucks. The client is ready to close quickly, has capital available, and is specifically interested in the areas of Tennessee, North Carolina, Arizona, and Texas.

The second client is a trucking company looking to expand their operating footprint in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and the Southern Illinois/St. Louis area. The ideal prospect would be a van company with an average length of haul of at least 500 miles. The client is looking to broaden their operating footprint and the owner is specifically interested in purchasing a family business that wishes to transition over time.

Ahern & Associates are already in the process of vetting potential targets for their new clients and with their well-deserved reputation for swift turn-around times for their clients are urging any interested parties to contact them.
