

Fall Timber Service Keeps Homes Warm in the Winter Says Pittsburgh Tree Service

PITTSBURGH, PA, USA, August 16, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The 2013 Old Farmer's Almanac predicts a long, cold winter for most of the Northeast. A Pittsburgh tree service offers timber service, letting clients enjoy fresh timber with little to no effort.

While no one wants to think about snow and cold temperatures just yet, winter is just around the corner. With the 2013 Old Farmer's Almanac predicting a long, cold winter for the northeastern United States, most homeowners should anticipate a higher than usual heating bill. Those who have many trees on the property and a fireplace indoor may be able to heat their homes in a different way, if they are willing to put in the time and effort to chop those trees into firewood. This is a taxing process that most people would rather avoid.

Greater Pitt Tree Service, a tree service in South Hills, Pennsylvania is now offering customers a specialized urban timber service. South Hills homeowners can call the service to assist them in creating firewood. The qualified professionals will come out and take care of the work involved with turning a tree into firewood. All the homeowner has to do is indicate which trees they want cut.

In South Hills, tree service professionals will cut the tree down and turn it into precise, even logs suitable for burning. These logs can also be used for building or craft projects. The service will clean up any debris and leave the area clean when finished.

For those who do not have trees, Greater Pitt Tree Service can deliver pre-cut logs for burning. This saves the homeowner the trouble of going out, buying logs, and having to haul them home. In this way, the customer can have the same homey effect of a roaring fireplace on Thanksgiving or Christmas Day, but with considerably less effort.

In addition to timber service, South Hills residents can contact Greater Pitt Tree Service for help trimming and maintaining trees on their property. Visit the service online at www.treeservice-pittsburgh.com
