

OnlineCasino.co Launches Redesigned Website

OnlineCasino.co is pleased to announce the launch of its new look website that features a more streamlined design with easier navigation and faster load times.

ORLANDO, FL, USA, September 10, 2013

/EINPresswire.com/ -- With today's new technology becoming old technology within what seems like an ever decreasing time frame, the same can be said with website design. What is fresh and exciting today can be stale and outdated in the blink of an eye. OnlineCasino.co is pleased to announce the launch of its new look website that features a more streamlined design with easier navigation and faster load times.

This is critical for visitors who may be accessing their many free play games, looking for review recommendations on a particular online casino or just stopping in to find out the latest news covering the online gambling industry.

OnlineCasino.co, online since 2010, has already established itself as a trustworthy and transparent reviewer of online casinos. All reviews are written by OnlineCasino.co's staff writers and must be fact checked and peer approved before being published online. Staff writers are held to strict evaluation requirements for review contents which include licensing and transparency standards, reviews of the software that run the actual gaming process, the deposit process, bonus offers, payouts and ranking the support process. This is an invaluable service for visitors searching for reputable and safe casino sites with real money play.

No matter how one surfs the web, whether by desk-top, tablet or by mobile, OnlineCasino.co provides an easy access portal to only the most reputable and established online casinos that offer great payout odds and large bonus awards for new accounts and existing player deposits. With fresh content being posted daily, the news and reviews are timely and up to date. The many free play games offered by OnlineCasino.co will help even the best players stay tuned-up for the real thing.
