

Naperville Vitamin Store Chooses Design & Promote to Launch Website

Organico Vitamins, a Naperville vitamin store and retailer of high-quality, organic vitamins, supplements and health and beauty items.

NAPERVILLE, IL, USA, October 11, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Organico Vitamins, a vitamin store in Naperville, IL that sells high-quality, organic vitamins and other products, has selected Design & Promote, a Naperville web design firm, to launch their online presence.

SEO is important because customers will be searching for specific brands and types of product. They need to be able to find us online so they can call or visit to purchase the specific items they want”

“I needed a full service internet marketing and web design firm that could help my website grow alongside my business,” said Ahmad Khan, owner of Organico Vitamins. “Design and Promote has an impressive website portfolio and proven success and expertise in search engine optimization, which will be vital to my success.”

Organico Vitamins is a locally owned and operated, independent vitamin store that carries an extensive selection of premier, organic health products at lower prices than the larger, natural food store chains. They also specialize in hard-to-find, top-quality brands such as such as MegaFood, Nature’s Plus, Solgar and Nordic Naturals. Organico’s shelves feature thousands of vitamins and supplements, homoeopathic, organic health and beauty, sports nutrition items and pet essentials. They also carry very rare, sought after Vegan, Vegetarian, Kosher, Allergy-free and Halal food, and vitamin products, and have special sections in the store devoted to children’s health, herbs, and personal hygiene.

“SEO is important because customers will be searching for specific brands and types of products. They need to be able to find us online so they can call or visit to purchase the specific items they want,” Khan said. “Design & Promote is an expert at helping their clients rank highly in the search engines so they can be found first.”

The graphic design of the new website, <http://www.organicovitamins.com>, will suggest that being one with nature is essential to healthy living. It will feature beautiful natural landscapes juxtaposed with pictures of healthy adults. The site will feature general store information, details about specific products and brands, and a helpful blog about healthy living.

"We're looking forward to the launch this month and to spreading the word about our unique product lines to customers looking for a Naperville vitamin store that specializes in high-quality vitamins at discount prices," said Khan.
