

Solace Dentistry Offers Gentle Dentistry in Charlotte NC

Angie's List Approved Dentist Offers a Gentle Approach to All Dental Procedures

CHARLOTTE, NC, USA, October 29, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Horror stories about bad Charlotte dentists are nothing new. Many of those who come into Solace Dentistry in Charlotte have them. Once they arrive at the Charlotte dental office, however, they realize that horror stories about dentists are a thing of the past – Solace Dentistry, the Charlotte gentle dentist, assures that.

For more than 15 years, patients throughout Charlotte – and especially South Charlotte – have relied on Solace Dentistry and its gentle approach to dental procedures. That approach is rooted in the calming approach put forth by the Charlotte dental practice, and its two leading dentists.

Betty Ostrow, a founding dentist and the owner of Solace Dentistry, was Ivy League educated at Columbia University. She describes herself as a “peacekeeper and lifelong artist”, and says of her time in school, “arts and crafts was my favorite subject... and it still is.” Certainly, her longtime patients would attest to Dr. Ostrow’s artistry in the dental realm, specifically in such concentrations as cosmetic dentistry and the crafting of dental crowns, dental bridges, and dental veneers.

Dr. Amanda Linch, educated at the Medical University of South Carolina, finds that her approach to gentle dentistry in Charlotte is rooted in her faith, which has manifested itself in mission trips to Mexico, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, and Honduras. Of Solace Dentistry, Dr. Linch had this to say:

"Solace Dentistry is a very special place to practice dentistry. We all quite simply love what we do and we love each other. I can't imagine a better place to treat my patients."

For general dental work in Charlotte, or for more complex restorative procedures, there is no need to go anywhere else.

Solace Dentistry offers gentle dentistry, convenient to Charlotte, South Charlotte, Dilworth, and surrounding areas.
