

New Online School Releases Innovative and First of Its Kind Intuitive Counseling Program

Studies in Intuitive Development and Intuitive Counseling are highly motivating awareness programs for personal and professional development.

OTTAWA-GATINEAU, CANADA, November 12, 2013

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Studies in Intuitive Development are part of a highly motivating awareness program for personal development. The further Intuitive Counseling component allows for advanced awareness in support of individual clients in need of answers otherwise unobserved by the average practitioner/therapist. The Intuitive Development Certificate Program and Intuitive Counseling Diploma program are easily accessible over the internet and a welcome relief to people who haven't yet found the best source to feed their need for inner awareness and expression. <http://www.canadiannaturopathies.com/>

Cheryl Driskell, CEO at the Canadian School of Naturotherapies and Spiritual Development (CSNSD), knows that what took her many years to cultivate can now be shared with students in a very practical program to guide them into their greater Intuitive energy awareness. She has been known to find polyps in clients by using her intuition, saving them long trials in later life. She says that, "What we still view as rare or miraculous is simply a different perception of our energy reality and many people are now asking themselves more and more why they didn't delve sooner into the discovery of their greater intuition after years of feeling its presence."

The Canadian School of Naturotherapies and Spiritual Development trains individuals driven towards uncovering their; intuition, energy awareness, higher consciousness, health and wellness, and are willing to make sincere contributions to their community using their wisdom heart and mind. Ms. Driskell explains "We want individuals who have known for years that they have a strong intuition, to take the time now to cultivate their greater intuitive potential and bring their skills into their work-place, their homes and ultimately to the forefront of their awareness, to be used for their highest good and that of all those around them."

Within the online Intuitive trainings offered by the CSNSD many topics are covered, such as "Surrendering to your Intuition", "Uncovering your Clairsentience and Clairvoyance", "Connecting Intuitively to your Body”, “Learning how to speak the language of your intuition” and more. Each student can begin with Intuitive Development Level I and II and then decide if they want to take their skills to the next level of training as an Intuitive Counselor and the designation of Registered Integrative Naturotherapist, the first of its kind anywhere.

And Ms. Driskell adds, “Our courses can be taken by anyone in the world, we are open to International Students and are excited about sharing the wisdom of our courses with individuals beyond our country's borders.”

In addition, our unique spiritual development course, “Be in Your Heart,” is joining the school online this December 11, 2013.
