EINPresswire.com/ -- Haypi Co., Ltd. announces the end of the first wave of their in-game Thanksgiving activities for Haypi Monster: The Lost Tower version 1.0.4. Another session of Thanksgiving log in rewards will start shortly.

The holiday activities in The Lost Tower for IOS have ended and the rewards have been delivered. In order to celebrate the Thanksgiving Day, the developer carried out four interesting in-game activities.

During the activity period, every player in The Lost Tower could receive Big Money Chests as daily Login rewards, just for logging in. The only condition was claiming the rewards in time, before the end of the day. Another Thanksgiving activity was offering more experience for monsters from trainings and challenges. During the activity, the experience received was increased to 150% EXP for all monsters.

The Purchase Treats activity was the most awarding one. Very attractive in-game prizes, such as Big Money Chests, Ultimate Rune Gems and Epic monsters, were given away to players who purchased coins during the time of the activity. Besides, all the purchase treats were cumulative, so some players could get a full set of all the awards!

A collection contest was also among the Thanksgiving activities in The Lost Tower. Players received plenty of rewards for catching a certain amount of regular or secret cave monsters. The better the players performed in the contest, the better activity rewards they received. The reward items included Seal cards and ultimate rune gems. In addition, the collection contest rewards were cumulative too, which means that one player could get a number of awards just for increasing their monster collection.

Haypi Monster: The Lost Tower was released earlier this month. It is an EDU spin on the Pokemon theme, with over two hundred monsters to be captured and tamed. The Lost Tower for iOS is completely free for download from the AppStore and offers in-app purchases.
