Worldwide Parcel Services offers customers an excellent UK import service as well as a fast and reliable cheap parcel service to worldwide destinations. Worldwide Parcel Services is originally known for offering the cheapest parcel delivery services to countries like USA, Australian, Japan, mainland Europe and many other worldwide spots. But now, the parcel importing service to the UK is become ever more popular with Worldwide Parcel Services, with customers being able to send to the UK from abroad for as little as £17.99 ex VAT.

Importantly, the import services work in the exactly same way as their reliable export delivery services. Customers are able to book online as per normal using Worldwide Parcel Services 'quick route' section. Customers need to simply add the parcel's size and weight into the menu at the top of the home page and then select the appropriate collection country. Customers will then receive the best price available from either DHL, TNT, or DPD depending on which gives the customer the best pricing.

As with all of Worldwide Parcel Services deliveries, parcels can be up to 500kg in weight. Like deliveries, customers must follow the usual customs rules and regulations. Regardless of delivering or receiving a parcel, the importation of goods into another country has been a minefield for many years and a lot has change. Customers are urged to check the Worldwide Parcel Services help and advice page before anything.

Some of the price examples of parcel import from worldwide destinations are as follows: Import from France for £30.28, import from Ireland for £23.22, import from the States for £29.66, import from China for £42.71, import from Australia for £42.71, import from South Africa and India for £51.03.

Some important information for customers when importing with Worldwide Parcel Services is that the recipient is always liable for any and all customs/import duties incurred. In the event that customers under declare the weight or dimensions, they will incur additional charges, so always be accurate when using our 'quick quote' section. Worldwide Parcel Services cannot be held responsible for any potential delays in shipment that is caused by customs. And finally, it is always the shipper's responsibility, not Worldwide Parcel Services, to ensure that the Airway Bill is correctly filled – failure to do so can result in more additional charges being levied to the customers.

Once items are placed for import, customers can then use Worldwide Parcel Services tracking section on the website to keep track of their incoming parcel. Simply enter the tracking number and follow your parcel, with an option to view its history.
