

Electrical Counter Offers 25 Year Guarantee on the Nexus Metal Range

KENT, UK, January 24, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The BG Nexus Metal range collection of low profile switches and sockets is the Electrical Counters best selling range of products, and customers can now have peace of mind with a excellent BG 25 year guarantee on the range.

The BG Nexus Metal range collection of low profile switches and sockets is the Electrical Counters best selling range of products, and customers can now have peace of mind with a excellent BG 25 year guarantee on the range.

Customers choosing the Electrical Counter will receive products available in stunning finishes with chrome plug sockets and switches brushed steel and black nickel finishes in a sleek and slim outcome with softly rounded corners to compliment the decor in and around your modern and contemporary home.

The 25 year guarantee applies to products with excellent features and benefits. The products customers receive are reluctant to any visible plastic around the switches or sockets, whether its chrome plug sockets or brushed steel switches, maintaining a stunning finish at all times. The surface of the range is lightly lacquered throughout to reduce any fingerprint marks, also. An attractive and modern aspect regarding the Nexus Metal range is the super classy slim profile all items offer, making them great designs that won't over hang from walls or wherever the customer wishes to place them. The profile can be easily installed on your existing wall boxes (typically 16mm deep for switches and 25mm deep for sockets).

Safety and protection is also an important aspect, and in defending the 25 year guarantee, the range is built with an integral gasket for moisture protection.

An excellent example of current affordability with the popular range can be shown with the top selling Metal Polished Chrome Plug Socket Switched. One of the top quality chrome plug sockets with all the benefits of a Nexus Metal range product. At trade price this item would cost customers £19.87. However, through the Electrical Counter the chrome plug socket takes a huge cut with a final price of £4.08.

The Electrical Counter are based in the heart of Kent, and are one of the UK's leading providers
