

What Dallas Drivers Can Learn from Driving Mistakes of Celebrities

Dallas injury lawyers discuss lessons Dallas drivers can learn from the driving mistakes of celebrities.

DALLAS, TX, USA, January 28, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Many celebrity car accidents were spotlighted in the media in 2013. From minor crashes to fatal ones, celebrity car accidents proved to be a major focus of news reports throughout the year. The Dallas accident injury lawyers of 1800 CAR WRECK say that much can be learned from reviewing reports of celebrity car accidents from the past year. A number of them involved common driving mistakes such as speeding and failing to obey traffic signs. One of the most prominent celebrity crashes of the year was the fatal accident that killed actor Paul Walker and his friend in November.

100+ mph Car Crash Killed Fast & Furious Star Paul Walker

Walker, 40, was burned beyond recognition in a "100+ mph" car crash in Santa Clarita, the 2005 Porsche Carrera GT driven by his friend and business partner Roger Rodas crashing into a pole and several trees.

Recently released reports with details of the speed of the car involved in the one vehicle crash that killed Walker have shown to be an eye opener for many. When fatal accidents such as this occur due to issues such as excessive speed, it makes others question what could have been done to prevent them from happening.

More recently, reality television stars of the TLC series "Here Comes Honey Boo Boo" were involved in a major car crash that yielded a different outcome.

Honey Boo Boo and Family in Car Accident: Mama June Address "Scary Crash" in Statement

"Honey Boo Boo and her family are currently recovering following a major car crash in McIntyre, Georgia on Monday, Jan. 6. (TMZ was first to report this news.) As Honey Boo Boo's (Alana Thompson) father Sugar Bear (David Thompson) was making a left turn, another car slammed into them."
