The field is considered one of the deepest in recent Winter Olympic memory, and features up to five teams more than capable of advancing to the gold medal round.

Versatility, is why the USA squad is one of the favorites, and arguably the most complete team in the tournament. With players such as Phil Kessel, Zach Parise, Joe Pavelski, and Patrick Kane, the United States have the ability, and necessary tools to dominate their opponent offensively. The USA hockey team also excels in low scoring, defensive minded games, as goaltender Jonathon Quick is one of the best in the world at his position.

Canada, is the defending champion, but the road to back to back Winter Olympic gold medals won't be easy, as the team could face the No 2 seed United States in the semi-finals. Canada, will square off with the winner of tuesday's matchup between Switzerland and Latvia, while the USA will take on the winner of Czech Rep and Slovakia.

The No. 1 seed Sweden team enters the 2014 Winter Olympic Hockey playoffs with a golden opportunity to make some noise in the tournament. Sweden, will be heavy favorites in the Quarter- Finals round, and potential semi-finals opponent Finland, is battling through injuries to Mikko Koivu, Valtteri Filppula and Aleksander Barkov. The Sweden Hockey team is in position to advance deep in to the tournament, and play for the gold medal.
