David Perdew and the NAMS (Novice to Advanced Marketing Systems) organization hosted their 11th hands-on workshop earlier in February setting record numbers in attendance with leading Internet professionals like Jason Fladlien of Rapid Crush Inc. Perdew, founder and chief architect of the Novice to Advanced Marketing System, Inc. (NAMS) says, “Jason Fladlien helped to make this event the best ever.” Whether attendees are beginners and they are new to the Internet business world, or they are an experienced marketer with multiple sites or businesses, this is the most complete training resource available today. Fladlien, software solutions creator, keynote speaker and instructor said, "In the six years I've attended and spoken at Internet marketing events, NAMS has to go down as one of the top ones! It was even better than events I have hosted in the past. I wouldn't hesitate for one second to recommend NAMS to anyone... I hope I was good enough that they invite me back again next time!"

Rapid Crush, Inc, created by Fladlien and his business partner, Wilson Mattos, because they saw a need for a simple, yet effective software solutions company to help entrepreneurs with their online efforts. The goal of “Jason and Will” is to create a long line of highly dependable, affordable software solutions with amazing customer support for each product in their line.

Rapid Crush specializes in using WordPress, Facebook, Cloud Computing, Content Distribution Networks and more to create and deliver products. Fladlien and Mattos base most of the software solutions on the web instead of the desktop because that is an area where they feel they can best serve their customers.
