The Liberty combines separate living spaces for every member of the family with areas of the home designed to bring everyone together. A large master suite at the front of the home features his-and-hers wardrobes along with a spacious en-suite with bath. The specially designed theatre and study are also situated near the master.

Meanwhile, the additional bedrooms surround a study nook and large bathroom, creating the perfect children's wing, or guest area. The centre of the home features an open-plan design complete with a huge entertainment area, galley kitchen with pantry, and a dining area. An adjacent alfresco offers even more entertaining space.

"The Liberty is a house built for fun, but also equipped to allow each member of the family their own private space when they need it. Whether entertaining a few dozen guests, or simply preparing family meals, The Liberty has the versatility that so many new home buyers are looking for," Muller said.
