

Service One Air Conditioning Helps Homeowners Improve Indoor Air Quality

Service One Air Conditioning of Longwood, FL can help Florida homeowners with indoor air quality this season.

LONGWOOD, FL, USA, February 25, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With allergy season just around the corner, Service One Air Conditioning employs a team of professionals whose job it is to provide homeowners with the latest products and services designed to optimize indoor air quality.

The professionals at Service One believe indoor air quality should not be taken for granted; with a world full of pollutants and allergens, breathing quality air takes more than just a well-maintained air conditioning system.

Central Florida homeowners are enjoying better air quality by turning to Service One for items such as: air purifier systems that trap and kill bacteria, viruses, mold spores, allergens and other pollutants in the conditioned air, and keep them out of the air; humidifiers which are very popular in the winter by helping reduce sore throats, chapped lips, itchy skin and sinus problems; and ventilators which are designed to remove stale air from the home, while keeping valuable energy from escaping.

"We are from Florida and believe we know better than anyone what it takes to ensure top quality in-home air," said Service One founder and owner, Bill Gouty. "We go into the home and assess the air quality and make recommendations to the homeowner with no pressure or up selling. We stand by our philosophy of providing efficient and reliable service in a helpful and friendly manner."

Founded in 2003, Service One is a locally owned and operated air conditioning, heating, and plumbing company that repairs, services and maintains all makes and models of air conditioning, heating, and plumbing equipment and fixtures. The company's team of experts can also upgrade, replace, or install new air conditioning and heating equipment.

"So, during this upcoming allergy season if find yourself with an itchy nose or watery eyes, we invite you to give us a call at Service One to see if we can help improve your indoor air quality," said Gouty. "Plus, once again we were awarded the 2013 Super Service Award from Angie's List, so you know we are getting positive reviews from our customers."
