ORLANDO, FL, USA, March 13, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Demand for titanium dioxide has pushed up prices worldwide for this valuable mineral. The client will mine, treat, and sell the titanium to the world's 2 biggest markets: the U.S. and China.

Capital Corp Merchant Banking's latest client aims to mine titanium, then treat it and sell it to the U.S. and China, the two biggest consumers of this mineral in the world. Titanium dioxide is most commonly found in paints, varnishes, papers, plastics, cosmetic products, rubber, sunscreens, printing inks, fibers, glass and glass ceramics, and electric conductors.

The titanium ore will be mined and processed in Mexico, then shipped out to buyers. China's appetite for titanium dioxide, in particular, has increased dramatically in the past decade, making it a profitable market for manufacturers and sellers.
