

Following a Chain of Industry Recognition Ahern & Associates Extends Its Thanks to the Trucking Industry

Celebrating 27 successful years of business and a series of features in major trucking and logistics industry publications Ahern & Associates has released a statement thanking the industry that it is dedicated to supporting.

PHOENIX, AZ, UNITED STATES, March 20, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In an industry as specialized and subject to change as the trucking industry, decades of success like that experienced by Arizona trucking consultants Ahern & Associates is rare. Nonetheless, as the transport and logistics management firm is nearing 3 decades of success in the industry, the company has stepped forward in order to express gratitude to the multitude of other parties that have influenced and supported Ahern & Associates over the past years.

The trucking and logistics industries have been buffeted by legislative changes and some of the worst weather that the country has experienced in decades, both of which have created more to a demand than ever for Ahern and Associate's unique consulting services. 2013 was a record year for the Phoenix based firm who do business nationally and their first quarter of 2014 is looking likely to set them up for another record in 2014. In addition to the demand for their consulting services there has also been an increasing demand from industry and economic publications that have sought CEO Andy Ahern's expert opinion on the current state and the future of the industry. In the past, Ahern & Associates have been featured by such influential publications as Transport Topics, Bloomberg News, Entrepreneur, and more. Most recently, Ahern & Associates have had the pleasure of being featured in a number of industry trade magazines, including Fleet Owner, and Transportation Intermediaries Association Logistics Journal.

Andy Ahern released a personal statement thanking them for their support of the trucking industry and of Ahern and Associates itself as well as extending his thanks to a number of other businesses and organizations involved both locally and nationally. Just a small sample of the many organizations are TIA, The Arizona Republic, The American Executive, Who's Who, and countless other companies who have acknowledged Ahern & Associates' continuous efforts, growing expertise, and dedication to helping their clients. The combination of recognition, and the company's ability to be a problem-solver for all types of transportation businesses are what have made Ahern what it is today.

Andy Ahern, Ahern & Associates' founder and CEO, wished to extend a heartfelt thanks to each and every customer, podcast viewer, reader, and associate who has helped this Phoenix trucking and logistics consulting company grow into the leading industry expert it is today.
