Florida, ended the season as the No.1 team in the country and comes in as the favorite to win it all. The Gators finished with a impressive 32-2 record and features a supporting cast led by senior forward Casey Prather. The senior averaged 14.2 points per game, and has the Gators in position to potentially be one of the teams still playing in April. Florida is the No. 1 seed in the south region.

Fred VanFleet, is the floor general of a Wichita State squad that enters the 2014 NCAA Tournament with a undefeated record at 34-0, and the No. 1 seed in the Midwest region. The sophomore is a great leader and distributor, and his ability to lock down opposing guards on the defensive end of the floor is one of the primary reasons why the Shockers are among the favorites.

Arizona, enters as the No. 1 seed in the west region after putting together a season in which they went 30-4 overall, and 15-3 in the Pac 12. The Wildcats are one of the top defensive teams in the country and gave up an average of just 58.1 points per contest. Because of the front-line of 7-0, 235 lb sophomore Kaleb Tarczewski and freshman Aaron Gordon, the backcourt featuring Nick Johnson and TJ McConnell can apply pressure defense on a consistent basis. Both players are considered among the top two on the ball defenders in college basketball.

The Cavaliers are the No.1 seed in the west region after having a surprising season in their conference. Virginia, won the ACC championship by coming away victorious with a 82-73 win over the Duke Blue Devils.

Fans will also be tuned in to watch some of the top prospects that will be entering the NBA draft such as Andrew Wiggins, who has often been compared to LeBron James because of his tremendous athletic ability. Jabari Parker, may need to put in some work on the defensive end, but he is arguably the most skilled offensive player in the nation.
