Gluten-Free, Extreme Dog Supplements For Canines, Launches Its Online Store

Extreme Dog Gear, a company based out of the Netherlands, Europe, finally launches their online store to sell their premium quality, filler-free supplements for working dogs, after successfully selling it to k9 private security dog services, sport- and dog sledding teams for years.

Extreme Dog Gear, a well-known company in the Netherlands, launched its much awaited online store to sell its top rated, filler-free line of working dog's supplements called Extreme Dog Supplements.

Processed dog foods contain fillers and gluten, which is the main reason behind many problems, including dull skin, weak immunity, laziness, weak muscles and slow recovery. Using filler-free, gluten-free, high in protein, rich in fiber, low-carb supplements eliminates these problems and help in building lean muscles and strong immunity.

Extreme Dog Supplements, famous in sports dog nutritional supplement industry for its tasty supplements that are gluten-free and are prepared without any artificial flavors, colors or preservatives, are the preferred canine nutrition and mass-gain supplement for any breed of working dog in the Netherlands.

Extreme Dog Supplements have now opened their online store, especially for those sports dog owners that are looking for premium, filler-free, gluten-free and tasty supplements delivered right to their door.

"We take pride in our rigorous approach to ensuring filler-free and quality products for canine and working dogs," said Erwin Oldeman, CEO of Extreme Dog Gear. "Every scoop of our product is 100% pure ingredients. So with Extreme Dog Supplements, you will get 100% value for your money."

"While many working dog owners will come and shop at our retail store, still we wanted to make our highest quality working dogs' supplements available to consumers online too, especially for those who prefer to shop online," added Erwin.
