

WoodToyBox.com Unveils New Monogram Toy Box Design To Add Personalized Touch

BISMARCK, ND, USA, March 21, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New Monogram laser engraving option from WoodToyBox.com lets moms, dads, grandparents or friends customize a handcrafted toy chest with a child's initials. The laser-engraved monogram helps to add a unique, personalized touch to any toy box.

BISMARCK, ND - WoodToyBox.com, an online provider of premium wooden toy and keepsake chests, has unveiled their latest customization option, a new Monogram engraving style. The new design features a laser engraved monogram on the front of the chest, allowing parents to customize the box with their child's initials.

Each of the company's handcrafted wood toy chests is constructed of premium materials and are available in Oak, Cherry, Espresso and eco-friendly Bamboo finishes. The new engraving design features a large last initial flanked by the child's first and middle name initials, engraved in one of the company's three most popular fonts: Shadow Bold, Edwardian or Monotype Corsiva.

"Our new Monogram engraving style offers an elegant, classically designed look that harkens back to the days when custom monograms were common on personal items. A child's toy box is often one of the first possessions they feel a powerful sense of ownership over and what better way to make it truly theirs than with custom engraving," said Bob Beck, founder of Wood Toy Box (<http://www.woodtoybox.com/>).

WoodToyBox.com offers a wide range of customization options on each of their toy chests. Parents can choose from a selection of engraving styles and fonts as well as an optional cedar bottom. By replacing the standard bottom with cedar, the toy box is transformed into a custom hope chest, perfect for storing bed linens, blankets, towels or special heirloom textiles like custom quilts or christening gowns.

Custom laser engraving is also available for parents who would like to create their own unique wood toy box designs by adding the images or text of their choice. WoodToyBox.com offers a convenient online design studio where parents can customize the toy box of their choice. Clients can even email their ideas to sales@woodtoybox.com where their design experts will create a custom mockup before laser engraving the design.

"We love seeing what parents come up with to personalize our toy chests. We take great pride in producing handcrafted toy boxes of the highest quality and know that with each custom job we do, a lucky child is getting a gift that they'll treasure for years to come," Beck said.
