Today Consumers are Discovering How They Can Get a Fresh Start Today with Chapter 7 Bankruptcy and Save Hundreds to Thousands of Dollars in Attorney Fees.

SERVICES NATIONWIDE, UNITED STATES, March 28, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Consumers Can File Bankruptcy Chapter 7 without an Attorney.

There are some individuals who have come to the decision that the debt they currently have is overwhelming. The burden of the bills and not being able to get current or pay them can cause stress. The constant calls from the bill collectors, and notices arriving in the mail can be unsettling. To get debt relief many consumers turn to filing bankruptcy. They seek bankruptcy help.

"Bankruptcy" is a federal program established by United States Congress to provide debt relief to persons and organizations suffering from financial difficulties. The federal bankruptcy program was never intended to cost hundreds or thousands of dollars in attorney fees!

In fact, in most cases the Bankruptcy Chapter 7 process consists of completing the Official Bankruptcy Forms, filing them with the bankruptcy court and attending a brief meeting with a bankruptcy trustee. No attorney or court hearing is required in many cases.

The court rules that a consumer can file Bankruptcy Chapter 7 without an attorney. Many ask the questions, "How to file bankruptcy without an attorney?" "Is it easy to file bankruptcy without an attorney?" "Will the court accept my Bankruptcy Chapter 7 Petition without an attorney?"

There are thousands of individuals who file Chapter 7 without an attorney. Many do so with the aid of a Petition Preparer. The preparer gets the information from the consumer and inserts the info into an online software that has all the Official Bankruptcy Petition forms.

There is an agency that helps consumers file Bankruptcy Chapter 7 without an attorney. They prepare the Official Bankruptcy Petition Forms that are ordered by the court. That agency is Abbey Chapter 7 Solutions.

Abbey Chapter 7 Solutions is a Debt Relief Agency handling the preparing of Bankruptcy Petitions for individuals and also attorneys. This agency operates under the Bankruptcy Codes (11 U.S.C.
