"Our personalized chests make great graduation gifts.

Graduating high school or college is a huge achievement and it's worth commemorating in a special way. The smaller chests can be used to store small mementos that were acquired over the years while the medium and larger ones can hold things like yearbooks, photo albums, varsity jackets or even textbooks. Best of all, the chest will last a lifetime. Graduates can take the chests with them as they goes through life," said Bob Beck, founder of MemoryChests.com (<http://www.memorychests.com/>).

The company's new monogram option can be viewed here and features the grad's last name initial in the center with the first and middle name initials to either side. There are a variety of fonts to choose from, ensuring each chest is as unique as the graduate. Up to three lines can be laser engraved on the front of the chest. There is room for up to six lines on the inside of the lid.

Memory and keepsake chests come in small, medium and large sizes. Small boxes measure 14"L x 10.5"W x 6.5"H. Medium chests are 28"L x 15"W x 15"H while Large chests are 41"L x 21"W x 21"H. All chests are handcrafted of either 100% Red Oak or Birch wood. They are available in Natural Oak, Cherry or Espresso finishes. An optional cedar base is available. Each chest comes with two hinged lids supports, which keep the lid open in any position.

"These are beautiful mementos in and of themselves but they're also extremely practical. The simple, classic design fits into any décor and the solid wood construction ensure it will be around for many, many years to come, even to the point of becoming a family heirloom. If you're looking for something that celebrates the past and holds promises for the future, a memory chest can't be beat," said Beck.
