When choosing essential oils it is important for health and safety reasons to choose only essential oils labeled "PURE" or "100% PURE." These are natural, unadulterated essential oils and do not contain synthetic oils or additives. Do not choose those labeled "Fragrance Oil", "Natural Fragrance Oil", "Natural Fragrance", "Perfume Oils", and the like. Unfortunately, there are many less than reputable brands in the marketplace today. Many are diluted with synthetic carrier oils and others may be entirely synthetic. These are not pure essential oils and may cause severe skin reactions. Choose reputable brand name pure essential oils, organic if available and feasible, from your local natural and organic food stores, or from a reputable aromatherapy store. If you are not sure about a particular oil or brand, always ask a clerk, manager or aroma therapist about the ingredients, quality and therapeutic properties. Do not purchase essential oils that are sold in plastic bottles. Essential oils degrade quickly in plastic.
