

Loralyn Designs Jewelry Brings Medieval Modern Style to The Vampire Diaries

BOSTON, MA, USA, April 23, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Vampire Diaries' Bonnie Bennett (Kat Graham) showed off her signature 70s chic, boho style with a medieval modern twist when she donned a Loralyn Designs Black Iron Diamond Necklace paired with a textured cropped leather jacket and striped tank top on Episode 5:18.

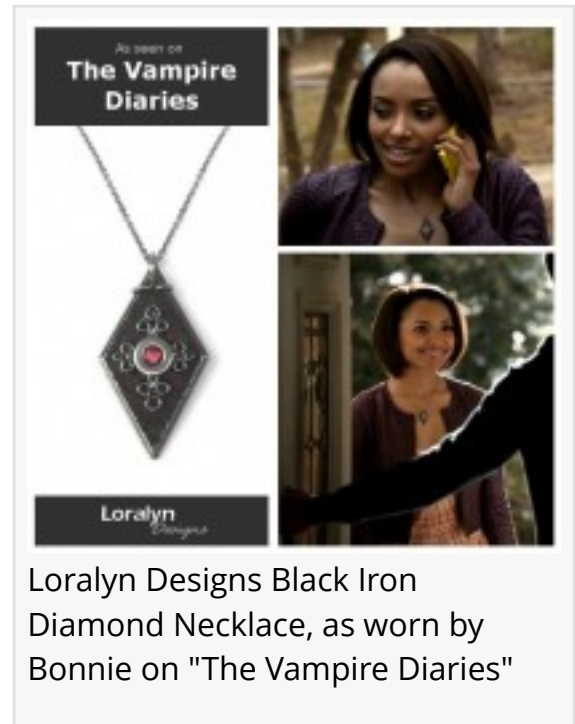

The Vampire Diaries' Bonnie Bennett (actress Kat Graham) wore her signature 70s chic, boho style with a medieval modern twist when she donned a Loralyn Designs (www.loralyndesigns.com) Black Iron Diamond Necklace paired with a textured cropped leather jacket and striped tank top on Season 5, Episode 18, which aired on April 17.

The Black Iron Diamond Necklace, which was designed and handcrafted by Loralyn Designs owner Laura King, was selected for use on the show by wardrobe stylist Leigh Leverett, who discovered it in a Gift Bag she received from California-based The Artisan Group®.

The necklace features a forged black iron diamond-shaped pendant adorned with a steel scroll filigree design that frames an eye-catching crimson red and black center. The color is not a stone but rather a metallic modelling resin that Laura hand-molds into the bezel. The pendant hangs from a stainless steel chain.

"I was inspired to create a piece of jewelry that looked like it could have been designed and made centuries ago but that would fit in easily with the contemporary setting of the show," Laura notes. "I love how well it paired with Bonnie's unique style."

Laura is not a newcomer to The Vampire Diaries. Her Celtic Cross Necklace was worn by actor Charles Bewley (Galen Vaughan) on multiple episodes of Season 4 and another piece will be worn by character Maria on Episode 5:21. Due to popular demand, the company offers a capsule collection of The Vampire Diaries jewelry featuring youthful, timeless pieces that have either
