In these economic times more and more people are rediscovering the simple pleasures that can be enjoyed at home instead of going out. One of those pleasures is taking time out for themselves with a warm relaxing bath with some candlelight and some great smelling, aromatherapy bath salts. Taking just 30 minutes per week to enjoy a bath with a great essential oil blend and mineral salts can greatly help reduce stress and reconnect with oneself.

To help their clients do just that, Us Research Chemicals & Medical Care Inc announces a launch of their new online custom bath salts and research chemicals ordering system. These bath salts and research chemicals options can be easily customized by first choosing one of 4 salt types as a base for the bath salts. Customers choose from either Dead Sea salt, Epsom salt, Himalayan Salts or Pacific Sea Salts and research chemicals. Each of these salt types and research chemical has it's own unique benefits and properties as well as varying costs. The least expensive of these salts is the Pacific Sea Salt, followed by Epsom, Dead Sea and Himalayan salts and research chemicals. The main benefit of all these salts is their mineral content which absorbs into the skin with the warm water, thereby re-mineralizing the body as well as detoxifying by pulling out toxins through the pores.

Once the base bath salt is chosen the next step is to select a scent which can be either an essential oil or a fragrance oil. Some of the most popular scents include Lavender, Eucalyptus, Bergamot, Ocean Breeze, Rose and Vanilla. There is also an option to choose an essential oil blend, formulated for it's known therapeutic properties. These blends come in options such as Muscle Soak, Skin Treatment Soak, Detox, Relax & Forget, Sleep (made of Lavender and Chamomile) and others.

Finally the shopper can decide if they wish to add a color to their bath salts as the third step and if so they can choose from 12 various colors or they can choose "no color" to keep their salts simple. After that they simply select the size they want and complete the checkout process. Since custom orders are mostly made by hand, specially for the order, the size options start at 5 pounds and go up to 10,000 pounds. The bulk bath salts quantities are usually purchased by companies with their own bath and body product lines that wish to add a bath salt option to increase their sales.

In addition to selling custom made Usresearchchemsupplies.com, International Bath Salts Inc. also offers private label options for spas and body product manufacturers as well as pedicure foot soaks which are mostly bought by nail salon professionals. Future plans are to offer a bath salt samples section, a recipes database for those who purchase just the pure salts and make their own homemade bath salts and other bath related services and options.
