

New Earth Friendly Options to Decorate With Natural Light

Interior Designers & Environmentally conscious Homeowners now have a range of natural options to decorate their homes with brand new window treatment patterns.

NEW BRAUNFELS, TX, 78130, April 23, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FUA Window Coverings a Texas based manufacturer of Natural Window Shades has recently introduced three new Natural patterns made with 100% renewable and sustainable green materials.

Interior Designers and environmentally conscious homeowners can choose any of the three colors available to decorate their windows with FUA's New Bengal Patterns.

See close up images of the New Bengal patterns at FUA's website link bellow.

The available new colors; Gold, Ornate and Cocoa can be matched with many decor styles and colors in traditional, contemporary and modern homes.

The rich textures and warm earth tones in the New Bengal patterns give Professional Decorators, Interior Designers and Homeowners new lively window treatment options that can filter natural light instead of hard treatments that darken entire rooms.

This earth day you can go green and decorate your home or office with unique window coverings that will surely make your home stand out from the rest.
