

NuVet Labs Review in Pet Industry Publication

NuJoint Plus Health Benefits Featured in Pet Age Magazine

WESTLAKE VILLAGE, CA, USA, May 6, 2014

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Los Angeles-based pet supplement firm NuVet Labs[®] announces it has been featured in the May 2014 issue of the trade publication, Pet Age Magazine. NuJoint Plus by NuVet Labs[®] is regarded by the magazine as a product that "pulls double-duty as both a preventative and a treatment" for joint issues. The magazine feature coincides with dozens of other NuVet reviews from customers. "Our NuJoint Plus supplement is a natural hip and joint therapy for dogs," explains Nicole Assael, Business Development Manager at NuVet Labs.

She continues, "NuJoint Plus helps to accelerate the healing process and reduce pain quickly for dogs that are suffering from osteoarthritis or hip dysplasia, and it can also be used as a preventative measure to help reduce the risk of developing osteoarthritis in healthy dogs."

NuJoint Plus is natural and contains MSM (Methylsulfonylmethane), Glucosamine, Chondroitin, and Vitamin C (Ester-C[®]). All of the ingredients in NuJoint Plus are cold-processed and compounded for maximum potency and efficacy. "We are excited about the increased awareness of our company and products, especially by such a highly regarded publication as Pet Age Magazine," says Matt Simpson, C.O.O. at NuVet Labs. Made with the highest quality human-grade ingredients, NuJoint Plus is safe and beneficial for dogs of all ages, including pregnant females. NuJoint Plus distinguishes itself from other supplements because the supplement is a highly palatable, chewable wafer, made with real chicken liver and easy for pets to digest. According to nutrition trade magazine, Today's Dietician, "consumers are increasingly shopping with an eye on healthy products," highlighting the growing awareness of the importance of proper nutrition, for humans and pets alike. NuVet Labs continues to be at the forefront of pet health by offering products that are natural, safe, and nutrient-rich.
