The country of Brazil is the host of the 2014 World Cup which features a total of 32 teams entering the tournament with one common goal in mind, and that's to be the last one standing at the end, and holding up the championship trophy in victory.

Four years ago the team from Spain came away victorious with a 1-0 win over the Netherlands to win the 2010 World Cup. The team entered the 2014 tournament as the defending champions and one of the clear cut favorites to bring home the trophy. In one of the biggest surprises thus far, Spain was eliminated from the World cup after coming up short in losses to Netherlands and Chile.

After one week of action there has been a few pleasant surprises. Qualifying for the World Cup for the first time in 16 years, Colombia, is off to a great start with a 3-0 win over Greece and a 2-1 win over Ivory Coast. The USA squad is off to a great start after a 2-1 win over Ghana and will look to improve their record to 2-0 when they take on Portugal on June 22.
