

Rent Russian Flat Adds Nine Cities to Ever Expanding Portfolio

New holiday rental service develops offering from Minsk to Vladivostok

MOSCOW, RUSSIA, June 26, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rent Russian Flat, a newly formed flat rental service operating across Russia and its neighbours has added nine cities to its portfolio; which now boasts 15 major cities.

Originally covering St. Petersburg, Moscow, Kazan, Sochi and Almaty, the company started off with the aim of providing safe, high quality, low-cost flats while working towards becoming the main online consolidator of budget apartments.

The new cities in its portfolio include Minsk, Kiev, Irkutsk, Vladivostok, Krasnodar, Yekaterinburg, Novosibirsk, Omsk, Ulan-Ude, and Khabarovsk with prices ranging from $55USD/1890RUB per night; with apartments available to rent in convenient locations.

Gleb Griboedov, the owner and Managing Director of Rent Russian Flat, says: "We can now cover the map from Minsk to Vladivostok and vice versa to satisfy all travellers and specifically budget travellers. We are an ideal option for those who would like to visit any of the cities that we offer; especially the Trans-Siberian travellers who plan their own trips from Moscow to Vladivostok with stopovers in the major cities of the Russian Federation".

As part of their launch in April, the company offered introductory discounts giving visitors up to 15% off their purchases and free visa support where the terms are met, followed by their traveller ambassador competition – where travel bloggers can have the opportunity of a lifetime by winning a ten night stay across various cities in Russia – both of which are still available for participation (see RRF Forum for more details).
