

Think Security Africa Condemns Terror Attacks and Threats to Security in Nigeria, Kenya and Libya

Think Security Africa (TSA) wholeheartedly condemns all acts of violence threatening security in Nigeria, Somalia, Kenya, Libya and the wider region.

LONDON, ENGLAND, June 26, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The latest terrorist attacks represent and ongoing challenge to security in Nigeria and serves to bring grief and suffering into the lives of Nigerian citizens from all ethnic and religious backgrounds represented in the country. They also detract attention away from the generally peaceful nature of Nigerians, and the tremendous contribution that Nigeria as a country has made to peacebuilding and improving security in Africa.

"Our heartfelt condolences go out to those that have lost family members, friends, and colleagues to senseless murder and abduction across Africa," says Adunola Abiola founder of TSA.

TSA equally condemns recent terrorist attacks in Somalia, Kenya and Libya, and calls for broader and intensified regional cooperation to combat terrorism in Africa.

Think Security Africa (TSA) is an independent think tank specializing in security in Africa. The core mission of TSA is to improve understanding of security in Africa, and engage in objective research into the causes and potential solutions to insecurity across Africa. TSA's resources are used by governments, inter-governmental organizations, journalists and business to assist with their Africa-focused missions.
