

TinderUs Launches Service To Help You Up Your Tinder Game

TinderUs, a consultancy business for legendary dating app Tinder, have launched a $50 service to help Tinder users maximise their potential.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, July 31, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TinderUs was launched by 25-year-old London based entrepreneur Michael Raven, initially as a joke, but the service saw immediate interest and gained traction via large online and offline press coverage.

Raven said: "It's no coincidence that TinderUs took off. I run Catch London: PR, Marketing and Communications for Tech Startups. We help bring ideas to market and ensure that they're covered in the correct places.

TinderUs' initial success is the perfect example of how an idea can spread with the correct launch"

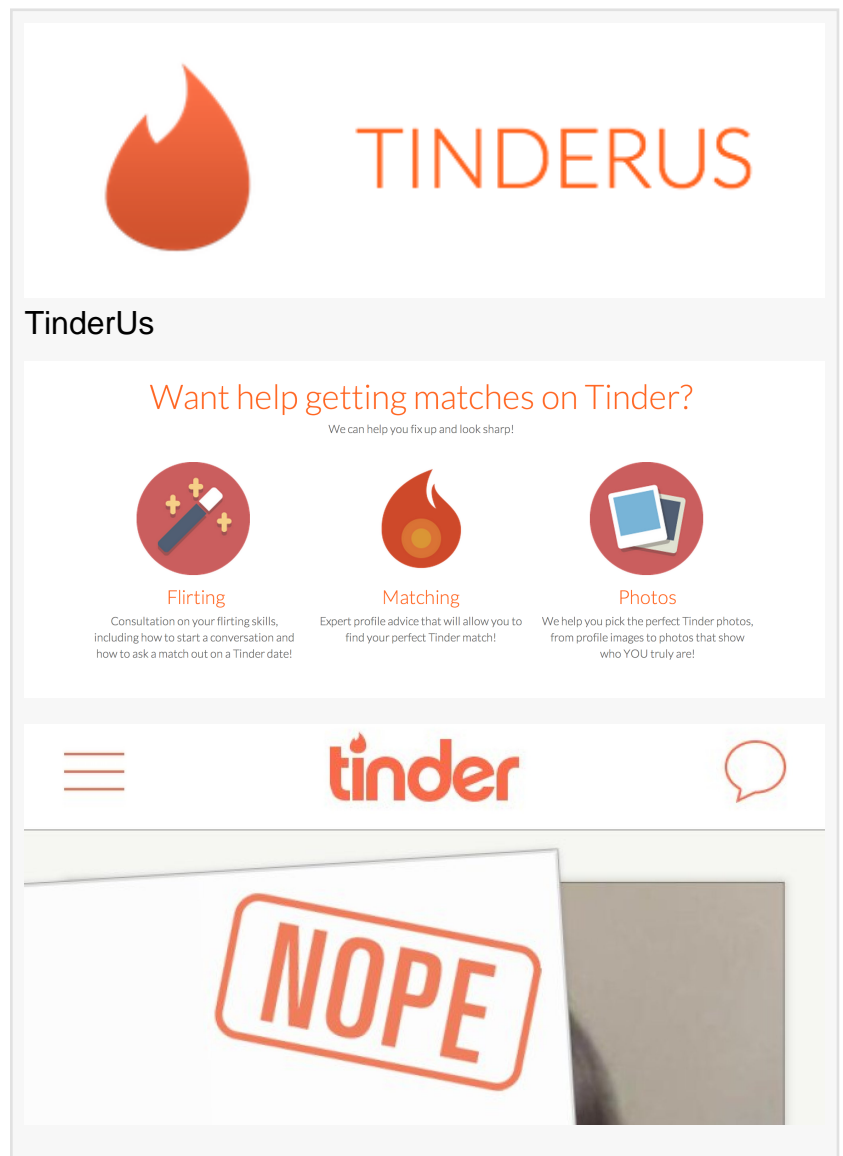

The service offers expert advice in the five key areas highlighted by TinderUs as being key to a successful Tinder profile:

- Picking your best 5 photos from Facebook
- Choosing your main image (most important)
- Curating your profile tagline
- Give you ideas and advice on opening lines
- Giving you expert advice on flirting and what to say in a conversation

It's no coincidence that TinderUs took off. I run Catch London: PR for Startups.

TinderUs consultancy is "simple, quick and effective", with all consultancy done over Facebook Chat. TinderUs's handpicked consultants – a mix of fashion, media and relationship gurus -- add you on Facebook with their TinderUs profile. Once added, they look through your photos and profile, giving the consultant a chance to get a feel of the person and what profile would work for them.

A TinderUs consultancy can be booked right now for $50 on TinderUs.com
