

Aequor Technologies Acquires Sound Advice's Life Sciences Practice

PISCATAWAY, NJ, USA, August 25, 2014

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Aequor Technologies, a US-based, IT Consulting and Staff Augmentation Firm, today announced the acquisition of Sound Advice's Life Sciences Staff Augmentation Practice of Scarsdale, New York.

Aequor Technologies, headquartered in New Jersey, is committed to growth in the Life Sciences marketplace by developing, establishing, and acquiring effective and creative consulting and staffing solutions firms that are established experts in their field. With rich experiences and resources in the IT and Non-IT staffing marketplace, as well as a partnership with life sciences for over 16 years, Aequor has earned a strong reputation in the life science staffing and solutions industry. "Today we are excited and honored to enter into this exclusive arrangement with Aequor Technologies. With this acquisition, Aequor will continue to fortify its position as a significant player in this competitive field," said Jason Hill, Founding Partner of Sound Advice Consulting Services.

"The acquisition of Sound Advice makes sense both strategically and operationally, said Aequor President & Chairman, Kamalpreet S. Viridi. "This valued addition will help us continue to provide high-quality IT talent to meet the ever-growing staffing needs of the life science market; while bringing incredible growth opportunities to our firm."

In relation, Aequor plans to continue their positive growth trend by welcoming other life science and healthcare staffing firms the chance to discuss possible merger and acquisition opportunities. "This acquisition demonstrates our willingness to invest in businesses that can help fuel profitable growth and extend our life science staffing strategy. With the right strategy, great execution, continued innovation and a clear commitment to providing quality solutions, we are confident that we can grow our life science business successfully for the long-term," said CEO & Co-Chairman, Manmeet Viridi.
