

New Twist on Funding

Twist Tubes Inventor Reaches Goal in First Week of Kickstarter Campaign

DOVER, NEW HAMPSHIRE, USA, August 29, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- After going live on Kickstarter last week, Mr. Bean has reached his goal of $7500.00 to fund the development of his Patent Pending products. After 4 years of development, in his spare time, Mr. Bean will now be able to complete needed tweaks to his injection molds and complete his retail packaging for the Twist Tube products.

Now that the initial goal was met, Stortech will offer new "stretch goals" and offer additional rewards for current and new supporters. The current campaign will continue for 32 more days giving new supporters time to come on board. At the end of the campaign, funds will be collected and transferred to Stortech's business checking account where Mr. Bean will then produce the products and fulfill the rewards promised.

Stretch goals will include producing his products in new colors and offering add on items to help supporters customize their rewards. In addition, a new Industrial strength Tube Cube will be offered for the Large Twist Tubes. This Rotary Tube System will include 16 Large Stortech Tubes in an aluminum frame that is strong enough for industrial and professional contractors.
