The goals of the event are networking, safety awareness, and most importantly...fun! Virginia Kinneman, owner of Kinneman Insurance and chief sponsor and inaugural chair of the event, created Heels and Wheels three years ago. "I wanted to create a unique event that would focus on local business while attracting interested people of every type. By combining a business networking event with NASCAR-like exhibits, we have done just that!" said Kinneman. "Regardless of who you are or what business you are in, Heels and Wheels is one of those rare opportunities for all types of business owners and customers to network and learn valuable lessons about each other, safety, and the community."

The event will feature (among many exciting exhibits) the following:

- The Official Nationwide Show Car which will allow attendees to see and hear the excitement of being near a real race car in person!
- An actual NASCAR race car simulator which will allow attendees to experience what it is like to drive a race car!
- A Distracted and Impaired Driving car simulator which will allow attendees to see the dangers of texting or drinking and driving in an action-packed simulation.

Additionally, attendees will be able to network with over 100 other business owners while enjoying the excitement of NASCAR, visiting with our exhibitors for a chance to win fabulous prizes, and enjoying food and games while making new business contacts.

"I can't wait," said Brian O'Shea, CEO of Alexandria headquartered Striker Pierce Investigations. "Events like Heels and Wheels are what our business community is all about...this event is always one of the highlights of the year!"
