

AIRWAYS AVIATION ACQUIRES UK BASED ATLANTIC FLIGHT TRAINING

GOLD COAST, QLD, AUSTRALIA, September 26, 2014
/EINPresswire.com/ --

The Airways Aviation Group has announced the acquisition of the renowned Coventry UK based Atlantic Flight Training (AFT) during the recent opening ceremony for it's new pilot training and air charter facilities in Montenegro.

AFT is a key component in the Airways Aviation Group realising its greater strategic objectives including an expected rapid international scaling and expansion of it's modular and integrated EASA training programmes.

AFT is also planning to introduce Helicopters along side of it's existing Aeroplane Pilot Training offerings. Airways Aviation is currently the only academy in Australia that offer both Private and Commercial Fixed and Rotor Wing flight training.

The expanded group now boasts well resourced, world class bases in Coventry and Bournemouth in the UK, the Gold Coast and Caloundra in Australia and Podgorica in Montenegro along with first class facilities in Aqaba - Jordan via it's strategic partnership with Ayla Aviation Academy.

The group have also started to offer bespoke Aviation Foundation and Pilot Pathway courses in Dubai with further classes also commencing in Amman and Kuala Lumpur in October, 2014.

"Our research and due diligence provided strong indications that Atlantic Flight Training Coventry was one of only a few properly established & resourced academies in the United Kingdom that offered EASA approved modular and integrated courses and that also carried Tier Four approvals allowing international student recruitment.

AFT is therefore a significant investment that is tracking to provide a great enhancement to our overall strategic objectives" says Romy Hawatt, Group CEO - Airways Aviation.
