BISMARCK, ND, USA, October 1, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The holidays are approaching quickly and WoodToyBox.com has the perfect solution for parents who are wondering what to do with the coming barrage of toys: a personalized toy chest. The company sells hand-crafted wood and manufactured wood toy chests in several different styles and designs and is taking holiday orders now.

"Wooden toy chests are very popular gifts. We always see a spike in orders during the fall and this year isn't an exception. We ship via FedEx and typically anticipate 2-3 weeks for delivery, but when the holiday rush hits, things can take a bit longer. To avoid paying rush shipping fees, we encourage early orders, especially for personalized chests," said Bob Beck, founder of Wood Toy Box (<http://www.woodtoybox.com/>).

Beck noted that the toy chests are purchased by grandparents, aunts, and uncles just as frequently as they are purchased by parents. The practical gift idea is much appreciated as it provides parents with a safe and sturdy storage solution that fits right in with the home's décor. A personalized toy box is a hit with kids too, who love to see their names front and center on the chest.

"They're a unique gift. People get tired of giving toys that will be outgrown before long but these grow with the child. Our toyboxes last for years and the classic design means they can easily go from a toy box to a storage chest as the child gets older. It's a gift that will last a lifetime," said Beck.

Two different types of toy chests are available at WoodToyBox.com: Handcrafted Toyboxes and Manufactured Toyboxes. The handcrafted toyboxes are larger and are made of oak or birch wood and wood veneers. Outside dimensions are 40"L x 21" W x 20" H. The manufactured toyboxes vary in size, depending on the style chosen, and are comprised mainly of fiberboard and plywood with some wooden components. All of the chests sold by WoodToyBox.com are equipped with lid supports that keep the lid open no matter what position. This safety features prevents the lid from dropping down on children's hands and heads when they are reaching into the box.

All of the toychests manufactured by WoodToyBox.com are lead-free and safe for children. They are available unfinished or stained in oak, cherry, bamboo and espresso with a satin topcoat. All chests require simple assembly upon delivery.
