

WELdental Launches WELtip: The World's First Toothpaste Delivery System for Water Flossers

WELtip's patent pending design provides a true 360 degree low abrasion cleaning of each tooth.

It fits all water flossers on the market today.

SAN MARCOS, CA, US, October 10, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- WELtip fits all water flossers on the market today. It greatly improves plaque removal over normal water flossing. It is the only low abrasion system that provides unsurpassed results.

"For decades millions of people have used water flossers like Waterpik. To get better results we have been putting solutions and additives into the water reservoir. Unfortunately, this practice shortens the life of these units dramatically." said Ron Welch, co-creator. "WELtip's patent pending chamber is at the exit point giving your an immediate delivery system for toothpaste, whitening and mouthwash tablets."

Ron was recently highlighted on Seattle's KOMO TV during the Shark Tank open casting call on April 26, 2014. The segment can be seen using the link <http://weldental.com/sharktank>

"We feel there is a perfect storm brewing for this type of product with the strong movement away from abrasive toothbrushes and toothpastes." said Dave Roberts, co-creator. "The damage takes years to become apparent and is avoidable."

The future market for additional tablet types that will be used with WELtip is unlimited.

WELtip is available for pre-order on Kickstarter and comes with our WELtab toothpaste tablets. Visit <http://weldental.com/kickstarter> and <http://weldental.com> to learn more.
