IT Governance supports NCSAM with cyber security packages for US organizations

IT Governance Ltd has produced a set of packaged solutions to help organizations implement ISO27001 in support of the 'National Cyber Security Awareness Month'.

BOISE, IDAHO, October 21, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IT Governance Ltd, the global provider of cyber security expertise, has produced a set of online packaged solutions to help organizations throughout the US to implement ISO27001 and in support of the 'National Cyber Security Awareness Month' (NCSAM).

Alan Calder, Founder and Executive Chairman of IT Governance, commented: "As NCSAM highlights, cyber security is a business-critical issue for all US enterprises. All organizations can protect their information assets by implementing a robust information security management system (ISMS) as set out in ISO27001, the international standard for information security management."

Recognizing the threat to the nation that cyber crime poses, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has declared October 'National Cyber Security Awareness Month' (NCSAM). NCSAM aims to raise awareness about the importance of cyber security in the US and to increase the resiliency of the nation's cyber infrastructure. Launching the initiative, the DHS stated that 'cybersecurity is one of our country's most important national security priorities'.

ISO27001 is the only international standard to approach information security as an enterprise-wide concern. Addressing people and processes as well as the technological aspects, ISO27001 provides all organizations, regardless of their size, sector or location, with a best-practice approach to securing their information assets. Accredited certification to the Standard is accepted globally as an indication of good cyber security.

IT Governance's ISO27001 Get A Little Help package contains core standards, implementation manuals, tools and training to help organizations with some management system expertise (with ISO9001, or ISO20000, for instance) to successfully achieve ISO27001 certification.
