

Local artist inks deal with record label to produce stirring album to promote hope, courage.

LAKE STEVENS, Wash. — Local artist Jeremiah James Bromley joined with Tate Music Group to begin the process for his new album, title to be announced soon.

LAKE STEVENS, WA, USA, October 21, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bromley's music is an innovative blend of Christian contemporary and rock music that talks about redemption. "Out of the ashes...Rise is a collection of songs recounting the struggles of Christian life. Through pain and heart break, failures... The album truly has been inspired by my own personal trials and victories," shares Bromley.

When asked about his decision to sign the album with Tate Music Group, Bromley responded, "It is nice to have a record label that wants to partner with you instead of trying to change and commercialize your music."

James Bromley

Through his music Bromley wants to encourage those who have gone through the most trying of times that they will always have their faith, no matter what.

Produced by Tate Music Group, the album will be available nationwide at the iTunes Store, Amazon.com, or directly from TateMusicGroup.com.

Jeremiah James Bromley is a huge fan of the Seattle Seahawks and the Auburn Tigers. He currently resides in Lake Stevens, Washington with his fiancé. He has a real passion for helping the destitute; and his passion for music made him decide that he had the ability to forge his passions together. Bromley hopes that his album will be able to rally around people who need the encouragement to face whatever challenges they are facing through God.
