

Local author, daughter of renowned actor to publish mystery/adventure book

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Local author Haylee Graham recently teamed up with Tate Publishing to publish her new series Centaurus.

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, October 21, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Centaurus talks about seventeen year old Lyn Dyer who is struggling from peer pressure, a disconcerting household, and a plaguing addiction. One day she finds herself becoming friends with creatures from another world and joining in on a mission to unite them with their native kind.

When asked about her inspiration behind the series, Graham responded, “I have always been fascinated with Greek Mythology. As a competitive horse-back rider for more than half my life, I had a specific draw to the Centaurs. In 2011, I finished my first novel by the time I graduated high school and was instantly searching for a second story idea. I had a rocky upbringing and my writing was my escape. I fell in love with creating worlds so I could, in a sense, escape this one. However, instead of just writing for myself, I wanted to create characters that could help inspire, comfort, and encourage my readers.”

Graham hopes the book will inspire readers to overcome their ‘demons,’ sharing, “I believe every human being has a ‘demon’. Not in literal terms by any means, but a demon as in something that we all struggle with. Every person’s ‘demon’ is different than the other. Some are more exposed and bare while others are hidden and concealed. Centaurus is all about having the strength and will to fight off your hardships and obstacles no matter what they may be.”

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book will be available upon its release through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.
